1. DEFINITIONS

"Payment Disbursement" means a payment initiated by Company that will be paid to you via your selected Payment Option.

"Payment Option" means one of the available disbursement options supported by the Services, which will be presented to you on this Web Site and which could include: Real Time Payments, ACH, Check, Zelle, direct to debit card, PayPal Venmo, or another payment method.

"Payment Details" means payee details you must provide for your selected Payment Option, which could include: name and address, bank routing and account numbers, Zelle account information, debit card number, or other information required to complete the payment request for your chosen Payment Option.

"Business Day" means Monday through Friday, excluding Federal Reserve holidays.

2. PAYMENT DISBURSEMENT SERVICES

The Service will allow you to select a Payment Option to allow Company to provide a Payment Disbursement to you. When you select the Payment Option and provide the Payment Details, you authorize Company to remit a Payment Disbursement to you using your selected Payment Option.

When you provide Payment Details that include your bank routing and account numbers, you authorize Company to initiate electronic payments to credit the account identified (and, if necessary, to electronically debit such account to correct any erroneous credits).

The availability of funds in your account will depend on the funds availability policy of your financial institution. Limitations to availability may apply, including “cut-off times” by which items need to be deposited to be included for processing on that Business Day. There is no guarantee of delivery timeframes for any Payment Disbursement. If there is a problem in processing your Payment Disbursement, Company may attempt to contact you.

This Service can only be used for payments to accounts located within the United States. You agree that you will not use the Service in any manner that conflicts with these Terms and Conditions or for any illegal, improper, or fraudulent purpose. Maximum transaction or volume limits may apply to any Payment Option. The Payment Disbursement may be blocked or rejected for any reason, including exceeding transaction or volume limits, or because the transfer would or may infringe on applicable legal or regulatory requirements. If your payment request is rejected, you will not receive a notification and the funds will not be deposited to your account. If the service is unavailable or your requested transfer fails for any reason, contact Company at [INSERT NUMBER].

There is no fee for use of the Service. However, you acknowledge that your financial institution or card issuer may charge a fee to process the payment in accordance with your account or cardholder agreement. Your financial institution or card issuer may deduct this fee from the transfer amount, resulting in your receipt of a letter amount. Company is not liable for any fees that may be charged by your financial institution or card issuer.

Your financial institution or card issuer may also have transaction or volume limits for payments to the account associated with your selected Payment Option. If the payment is not delivered because it exceeds account or cardholder limits, you may contact your financial institution or card issuer to request a limit increase. Company has no control over your financial institution or card issuer’s limits.

We may terminate, suspend or refuse to provide this Service or any Payment Option without notice to you.
